- A new way to take into account of the contribution of the warping stresses due to torsional loads and save modelling time as well.

- Improvement of end connection generation in the fwd and aft end
- Import of session file after validation of a different mesh
- Lightweight correction now working
- FDA3 container loading

4. Known limitations

- The refreshing on the graphic view can fail. To overcome this you can right click in the graphic view and press escape or change the view angle.
